Let us invite you on an exciting journey into the distant past, where you will discover the many secrets of Štramberk and its castle over the past seven centuries… This 'open' exhibition will truly open your eyes to the many wonderful stories that have been played out in this town and its castle during its long and eventful history. The exhibition is 'open' not only because you can visit it 365 days a year, but also because you can contribute to it! We are planning to make constant additions and changes to the exhibition – based on your ideas and materials. So the next time you return to the tower, you might find out something completely new!
